Cat's Space Cat's Space

Carefree Cat-keeping Welcomed!

After many months of fine tuning and testing, the Oscillot™ Cat Containment System became available around Australia in September.

Increasing numbers of cat-lovers are seizing the opportunity offered by Oscillot™ to create a natural safe roaming environment in their own yards.

The feedback we have had from these 'early adopters' of the RSPCA-endorsed system has been very gratifying and encouraging. More.....

Doggilot??

Over the past year, we've consistently received enquiries as to whether the Oscillot™ System would work for dogs as well.

In response, we've conducted some trials with modified Cat Containment System components, and the answer to that question is now a very emphatic 'Yes', provided other doggy 'escape routes' are taken care of!! More.....

And what about Possums?

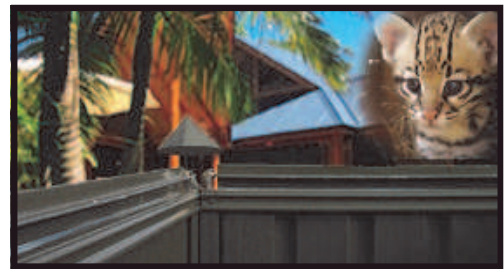

You've been carefully nurturing your tomatoes, your roses are budding nicely, and your fruit is almost ready to pick. Then one morning, all your good work's come undone at the paws of nighttime visitors -the local possums!

Although the initial version of the Oscillot™ System is clearly aimed at safe and responsible cat management, we're very aware that there are a number of problems a modified system could address, including unwanted possums. More.....

Where can I buy Oscillot™?

We now have more than 50 retailers around the country who can help you plan the appropriate Oscillot™ Cat Containment System for your yard, and supply all your materials.

We are adding more outlets to our network every week, so we recommend keeping an eye on our list of retailers on the
