SPRING! – save the wildlife babies

Spring has arrived, and with the warmer weather, the emergence of new born native wildlife. A dangerous time for these very vulnerable creatures. As responsible cat owners we can do our part to ensure their survival. By keeping our cats at home we can prevent our cats from coming into contact with our declining native wildlife. There are many commercial products available to help keep your cat at home. Now a veterinarian has invented the CatBib that is very effective in preventing your cat from hunting the wildlife in your yard. Read more.....

How well do you understand your cat?

The Cat Whisperer

A cat whisperer is somewhat similar to a dog or horse whisperer, although cat whisperers relate quite well with cats. These types of people are unusually lucky and very successfully with cats. In most cases, a cat will be abandoned or just show up at someone's door. In this event, the cat will adopt this individual as the cat whisperer. Read more.....

As we all know, cats are extremely photogenic, so we'd like to start a cat portrait gallery on our website.

If you want to show off your favourite feline to the world, email your photographs and details your photographs and details.

Shots of your Oscillot installation to add to our corporate 'brag book' are also most welcome!

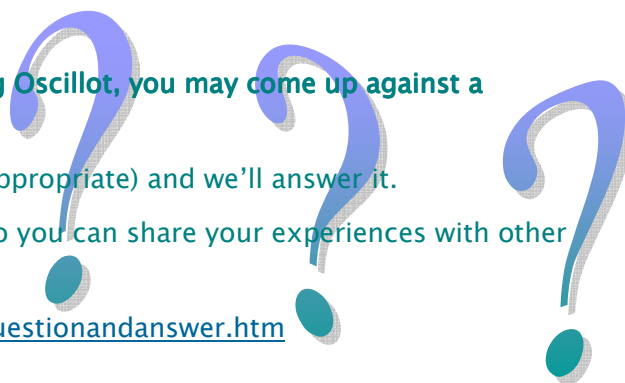

Do you have more Questions?

Oscillot supports your local vet & animal welfare organisations

Oscillot is pleased to announce the creation of Sales Agencies around the country. By ordering through our agency network of Vet Clinics, Animal Hospitals and the Queensland Animal Welfare League you will be supporting those organisations who work so hard towards the welfare of your pets. They will receive 10% of sales proceeds from your order when you place your order through them. Oscillot is a proud partner of RSPCA Australia, which receives a payment for every Oscillot unit sold in Australia. Enquire at your local vet now.
